Jury May Peek Into Report on Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigating disturbances during the Democratic National Convention may look into a report on the subject by a task force of the President's Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.
Chief Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court, who is directing the grand jury inquiry, said Wednesday the timing and motivation of the report compiled by Daniel Walker, a Chicago lawyer, should be scrutinized.
The timing of the Walker report, he said, "seems inappropriate." "I think any investigation of the timing by my grand jury might be appropriate. I assume they will look into that matter."
The report, released Sunday in Washington, said a "police riot" was involved in violence which surrounded the convention.
Judge Campbell questioned whether the report should have been made known before it was shown to the grand jury. He also criticized the 53-day time limit he said was placed on the Walker investigation.
"I don't know why anyone waiting to be objective would place a time limit on an investigation. This is no way to conduct an investigation and anyone skilled in the field would not undertake the task under such conditions," the judge said.

Violence Eases at Colleges

Protests by small bands of militant students struck two universities in New York City Wednesday while demonstrations continued at San Francisco State College.
Although 1,000 persons—the largest group of demonstrators yet—disrupted San Francisco State classes with chants of "Pigs off Campus! Shut it down!" there was little violence. Police herded them away.
In New York a group of 20 Negro students on the Bronx campus of Fordham University seized a dean's office temporarily and won a promise that no action would be taken which would result in the loss of federal aid to Negro students for nonviolent dissent.
A predominantly white group of sleep-ins at the Jesuit institution today demanded that 20 per cent of future freshman classes be enrolled from the Negro and Puerto Rican community.
About one per cent of the school's present enrollment of 6,000 are Negro.
At New York University talks by a South Vietnamese diplomat and the executive editor of the New York Times were prevented Wednesday night by a group of 60 obscenity shouting demonstrators.
Nguyen Huu Chi, South Vietnam's permanent observer to the United Nations was draped with a Nazi flag and had a pitcher of water poured on his head by the rowdy students, some of whom waved Viet Cong flags.
He remained calm and was escorted from the hall where he was to have addressed the Political Forum of the university.
James Reston, executive editor of the Times, was speaking in another auditorium when the youths burst in a side door, dismantled the loudspeaker system and shouted epithets. They were booed by the audience.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying urgently through diplomatic pressure to prevent further escalation of the Israel-Arab border clashes which have intensified the Middle East crisis in the past few days.

The State Department called in the Israeli and Jordanian ambassadors separately late Wednesday to declare that "violations of the cease fire line by both sides in the past few days are a matter of serious concern to us."
Johnson administration officials privately expressed most concern over Israel's use of planes Tuesday against targets in northwest Jordan where Jordan and Iraqi forces are stationed.
At the same time a State Department spokesman prodded the Soviet government to use its influence with the Arab states—for which it is the major arms supplier—to try to move the situation toward a peaceful settlement.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. EDDIE RAY MUNCEY

Miss Kathy Cecile Portman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Eugene Portman, 1902 Karnack Road, Marshall, Texas, and Eddie Ray Muncy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond R. Muncy of Hope, pledged their wedding vows November 29 in the First Pentecostal Church of Marshall, Texas. Rev. B. W. Lane officiated.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Eloise Herrin who accompanied Mrs. Ruby McKellar of Alexandria, La. who sang "Whither Thou Goest." Mrs. Dewayne Langford and Mrs. Joy Jones presented "I Love you Truly." Candles were lighted by Linda Muncy and Fred Allen Portman.

Vows were spoken before an altar with a focal point of two massive Victorian arrangements of white charm gladioli placed in antique white and gold urns. Spiral candelabras flanked the focal point. The couple knelt in prayer on a Spanish leather covered prie dieu. Family pews were marked with white satin bell bows.

Mr. Portman gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal peau de sole lace gown with the bodice of Val lace, featuring a portrait neckline. The bell skirt was enhanced with a chapel train. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a lace and jewel headpiece. She carried a cascade of white carnations, fern and net puffs encircling an orchid.

Miss Shirley Kaylor served as maid of honor. Mrs. Sandra Rogers of Port Arthur was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Beverly Mayhall of Longview, Miss Rhonda Hodges and Miss Lynn Barbo. The maid of honor and the matron of honor wore gowns of red velvet. The bridesmaids wore green velvet. They carried red velvet roses, accented by lemon foliage and red bows.

Melody Williams of Hope, dressed similar to the bridesmaids, was flower girl. Mike Haire of Magnolia was ring bearer.

The honoree wore a cyclamen pink wool dress enhanced by a small corsage of frosted fruit trimmed in green velvet. The harvest motif of fruit and bronze chrysanthemums was used throughout the entertainment rooms.

Among the 25 guests were the mothers of the engaged couple, Mrs. Leonard Ellis and Mrs. Hubert Barksdale of Pine Bluff.

The hostess, Mrs. Ellis, served coffee in the dining room, where the turquoise linen cloth was centered with an arrangement of fresh fruit in a footed silver bowl. The fruit-tipped cocktail picks and napkins further carried out the harvest theme where an assortment of snacks and sweets were served.

In the den, a copper chafing dish filled with permanent fruit, the hostesses' gift to the honoree, was the center of interest on the breakfast table. Each guest brought a favorite recipe with the ingredients to be used in making a gift to the bride-to-be.

served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Harold Brown, Chuck Lively, Rodney Bodo and Gayle Dixon, Hope. Ushers were Dennis LaGrone of Carthage, and Sherman Spadley of Shreveport.

Mary Muncy of Hope, and Ronnie George attended as miniature bride and groom. Their attire was fashioned similar to the bride and bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Portman chose a cinnamon gown with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale green gown and complementing accessories. Their corsages were of purple cattaya orchids.

A reception followed at the Lions Community House. Miss Nancy Spradley of Shreveport, registered guests in the bride's book placed on the registry table beside a bud vase holding red carnations.

The lace and satin covered bride's table was centered with a white wrought iron cupid epergne holding a cascade of red carnations and polished Baker fern. Miss Terri Phillips served cake and Miss Sharon Pyle presided at the punch service.

Red carnations formed the centerpiece also of the groom's table, laid with a red linen cloth. Mrs. Robert Kaylor served chocolate cake and Mrs. Ronnie Custis presided at the coffee service.

For traveling, the bride changed to a double knit dress of white and gray with a hot pink sash. Her accessories were of blending color and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet was pinned at her shoulder.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ron Cowen, the 23-year-old author of "Saturday Adoption" feels strongly that it is unfair to give — money, time, affection — and expect something in return. In his 90-minute original drama, the second in this season's "CBS Playhouse" on Wednesday night he phrased and re-phrased this thesis in the dialogue and plot: "You give something to somebody and you want a little piece of him."

Cowen's story was built around a disaffected 20-year-old prelaw student who, needing some meaning in his own life, volunteers as a Saturday tutor to a boy in a slum neighborhood. Rich Meridan, from a middle class suburban home, is assigned to Macy Stander, a bright 12-year-old Negro who is encountering trouble reading.

Macy's background is the source of his unhappiness and loneliness — recollections of an out-of-work father now dead, a hard-working, ambitious mother who is determined to get better things for herself and child. And an older brother, Paul, hostile and suspicious of do-gooders, who has left his family to make his own hard way alone in a small job.

Rich has been sold by his father on becoming a lawyer and in spite of his personal doubts, he turned right around and sold the same idea to the little boy. He also hammered away at the boy's reserves and finally persuaded him to share some of his boyish dreams — cutting out to the South Seas and painting, jumping into a red sports car and running away to look at sunsets and forests in the Midwest.

But Rich was dreaming and knew it. The younger boy, once he had been reached and believed Rich, accepted the dream quite literally.

Of course, there was no way to a happy ending for Macy. Rich's businessman father laughed off his request for money to send Macy through college. That was reality and Rich was forced to deliberately and cruelly disillusion the youngster and send him, crushed, out of his life.

Cowen did not make any particular point about the black and white relationship, but the play did attempt to point up the differences between comfortable middle class existence and the bleak, hard life of low income families.

His characters seemed a little fuzzy. The 20-year-old was infantile in his yearning to go back to age 13 and be a pirate. The little boy was extremely mature in his initial resistance to making plans that probably would not materialize.

It was 90 minutes of little action and much talk and would have benefited by editing down to one hour. It moved slowly as Cowen circled around and worried at his theme from various angles. However, the performances of the two young leads were not impressive. Rick Gates played the college student, Eric Laneville was effective as the lonely little boy. Delbert Mann's direction was sensitive, although his device of having Rich walk on camera from scene to scene — once there was supposed to be a lapse of a year, in time between the scenes — was a little arty and self-conscious.

Badgers Rip Bobcats by 63-41

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

For the second straight night a full-court press proved Hope's undoing, as the Arkadelphia Badgers roared to a 63-41 victory over the Bobcats last night at the OBU Tournament in Arkadelphia.

The loss eliminated Hope from the tourney after a 69-68 win over LR Fuller Monday night had sent the Bobcats into the quarterfinals. Now 1-3 for the season, HHS faces DeQueen there tomorrow night.

However, the Cats took it to 'em in the early going, using Jim Singleton's five points to roll up an 11-8 lead at the quarter.

Employing an air-tight zone defense, Hope kept the Badgers rattled and forced them to foul in the second stanza. Balanced scoring and plenty of depth kept Arkadelphia alive against 90 percent foul shooting on the part of the Bobcats, but neither team had pressed yet.

Hope led by a smidgen, 24-23, at intermission, but the glory didn't last long.

In that third period Arkadelphia used that tough press to its fullest effectiveness, capitalizing on Bobcat errors for cheap baskets. Badger sophs Bob Hurley and Bill Vining took up the scoring slack, and Hope fell soon behind.

By the quarter's end it was 47-34 Arkadelphia, with the Bobcats eventually being only able to score four field goals the whole second half.

Fouls got both teams in some trouble in the late going, with Bobcats Terry Turner and James Simmons leaving with five personal fouls. In the end, though, Vining and Hurley made the biggest contributions to Arkadelphia's cause, as three Badgers finished in double figures.

Tonight the Junior High girls and boys travel to Nashville for a pair of games starting at 6:30 p.m., and tomorrow evening the boys teams and the Lady Cats trip to DeQueen to match the Leopards.

Reversal But Pistons Still Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
While some might rather fight than switch, the Detroit Pistons have a new way: they switch and then fight, too.

But despite their strange reversal, the Pistons are still losing.

Detroit wasn't winning for Coach Donnis Butcher, who felt his club was not putting out 100 percent before the club switched to Paul Seymour.

The Pistons did plenty of fighting in Seymour's coaching debut Wednesday night, but still lost to the visiting Baltimore Bullets 112-106 after the Pistons' Terry Dischinger and Baltimore's Gus Johnson were ejected for fighting.

Baltimore's victory still left it percentage points behind Boston in the Eastern Division after the leading Celtics finished in a hurry to edge Milwaukee 101-99 in Boston.

Philadelphia remained in third place with a 110-99 triumph over visiting San Diego while the New York Knicks beat

Porker Jim Barnes Is All America

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Southern California's O.J. Simpson, the runaway pacemaker in a season dominated by brilliant ball-carriers, heads the array of college football stars named today to The Associated Press 1968 All America team.

Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner who lugged the ball more times and gained more yards this fall than anyone ever had in one season, earned All-America honors for the second consecutive year.

Versatile halfback Leroy Keyes of Purdue, pass-catching marvel Ron Sellers of Florida State and towering defensive end Ted Hendricks of Miami, Fla., join the Trojan flash as repeaters from the 1967 All-American squad.

Chris Gilbert, Texas' explosive tailback, moved up from last year's second team to a full running back spot alongside Simpson and Keyes. Terry Hanratty, who masterminded Notre Dame's awesome attack until he was grounded by a November knee injury edged Kansas ace Bob Douglass for the quarterback post.

Tackle Bill Stanfill and safety Jake Scott, ringleaders of Georgia's mighty defense unit, were solid first team choices. Penn State and Tennessee also landed two standouts apiece on the 22-man squad, tight end Ted Kwalick and linebacker Dennis Onkotz representing the unbeaten Nittany Lions; offensive guard Charles Rosenfelder and linebacker Steve Kiner the Vols.

Scott, Onkotz, Kiner and the third linebacker, Mike Widger of Virginia Tech, were the only underclassmen selected.

Kwalick, a 6-foot-4, 230-pound strongman regarded as the finest college tight end in nearly a decade, mans one flank. Sellers, a slender, 6-foot-4 game-breaker who caught 86 passes to lead the nation and set an all-time career record for yards gained on receptions, holds down the other.

Dave Foley of Ohio State, a 255-pound blockbuster, and 235-pound Mike Montler of Colorado are the offensive tackles. Jarving Jim Barnes of Arkansas is Rosenfelder's running mate at guard and 242-pound John Dillion of Oregon State, a second team pick last year, is the No. 1 center.

Joining Hendricks, Miami's 6-foot-8, 222-pound Mad Stork, and the 6-foot-5, 245-pound Stanfill on the defensive line are end John Zook of Kansas, mammoth tackle Joe Greene of North Texas State and tenacious middle guard Ed White of California. Greene is the heavyweight at 274 pounds. Zook goes 230 and White 245.

Al Worley, Washington's record-setting pass bandit, and premier punt returner Roger Wehrli of Missouri complete the deep secondary alongside Scott, who excelled in both departments for the bulldogs.

The AP All-America selectors had no trouble filling one running back berth. Simpson, a durable 207-pounder with 9.4 sprinter's speed and uncanny instinct for hitting the holes, was a landslide choice after leading the unbeaten Trojans to their second straight Pacific 8 Conference title.

O.J. rambled through and around opponents' stacked defenses for 1,709 yards, an all-time NCAA record, while averaging 36 carries per game and bolting for 22 touchdowns.

Behind the Southern Cal comet, however, there were more than half a dozen magnificent backs with credentials worthy of All-America stature.

Keyes, although hampered by injuries, rambled for 1,003 rushing yards, caught passes and threw them, scored 15 touchdowns and played some defense for the Boilermakers. The 6-foot-3, 205-pound speedster placed second in the Heisman balloting.

Gilbert, a 180-pound wratha, was the workhorse in Texas' hard-driving full House backfield. He became the first back ever to roll up more than 1,000 yards for three straight years, finishing with 1,132 for a career total of 3,231—third highest in history.

Michigan's Ron Johnson, whose 347-yard, five-touchdown performance against Wisconsin was the biggest single-game spree ever, also topped the 1,000-yard mark. So did Oklahoma's Steve Owens, Houston's Paul Gipson, Oregon State's Bill "Earthquake" Enyart, Army's Charley Jarvis and West Texas State's Eugene "Mercury" Morris.

Hanratty rewrote the Notre Dame record book, eclipsing

George Gipp's career total offense mark along the way, before torn knee ligaments, which required surgery, cut short his senior year at seven games.

Douglass, a slick southpaw passer and roll-out runner, sparked Kansas to a 9-1 regular season finish and an Orange Bowl berth opposite Penn State.

The selectors also were faced with a preponderance of excellent wide receivers. Jerry Levas, the 162-pound Southern Methodist bantam who snared 80 passes, and Jim Seymour, Hanratty's elusive aerial partner at Notre Dame, were just behind the Kwalick-Sellers combination—and just ahead of Stanford swifty Gen Washington and Oklahoma's Eddie Hinton.

Baseball Trade Mart Opens Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The baseball trade market, which was slow in starting at the annual winter meetings, has heated up in a hurry.

Four deals were completed Wednesday—as many as had been made in the first two days of the meeting—and the most important result was the shipment of Curt Blefary, former

The five-player deal, one of three made by the Astros during the day, sent pitcher Mike Cuellar to the Orioles along with minor league infielders Elijah Johnson and Enzo Hernandez.

The Astros also got John Mason, a minor league outfielder.

The Astros also traded third baseman Bob Aspromonte to Atlanta for utility man Orlando "Marty" Martinez and sent outfielder Dick Simpson to the New York Yankees for relief pitcher Dooley Womack.

The Yanks also traded outfielder Andy Kosco to Los Angeles for pitcher Mike Kekich.

Blefary was Rookie-of-the-Year in 1965 when he hit .260 with 22 home runs, but last year he slipped to .200 with 15 homers while playing catcher and the outfield.

Aspromonte has a .256 lifetime batting average but slipped to .225 last year. Apparently the Astros felt that with the development of Doug Rader they could afford to let him go.

The Braves took him as insurance for Cleto Boyer.

Martinez hit .230 in 113 games with the Braves last year; Simpson hit .197 with St. Louis and Houston; Womack was 3-7 with a 3.19 ERA for the Yankees; Kosco hit .240 with 15 homers and 19 RBI, and Kekich was 2-10 with a 3.91 ERA with the Dodgers.

Haywood Is Again Big Cage Gun

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Spencer Haywood and Calvin Murphy, who figure to be a couple of hot shots in college basketball this season, each enjoyed 38-point scoring sprees Wednesday night.

Haywood, star of the U.S. Olympic team, led the 15th-ranked Detroit Titans to a 103-48 romp over Windsor, Ont., for their third straight. Murphy paced the Niagara Purple Eagles over Buffalo State 118-97. Both were home court victories.

Haywood, a 6-foot-8 sophomore, now has scored 112 points in three games. Murphy, a 5-10 sharpshooting junior who finished second in last year's national scoring race, has 64 in two games for Niagara.

John Tolmie threw in 33 points to lead Navy over Harvard 70-58 at Annapolis while Aaron Jenkins and Bill Cain combined for 48 points to spearhead Iowa State over 20th ranked Tennessee 72-66 at Knoxville.

Jenkins tallied 25 and Cain 23 as Iowa State handed the Vols their first home court defeat in eight years to a non-SEC Conference foe.

Two quick baskets by Jenkins stifled a Tennessee rally when the Vols had crept to within 48-47.

None of the Top Ten teams in the Associated Press poll saw action. St. Bonaventure, No. 11 opened its season with a 111-70 romp over Detroit College at Olean as Bob Lanier and Jim Satalin each tallied 23 points.

California, No. 19, opened at home by defeating San Jose State 103-98 while Iowa, tied for No. 20 with Tennessee, downed Northern Michigan at home 99-69.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia went two overtimes to down Bowling Green on the road 90-88. Ed Leonarczyk gave the Hawks a 74-74 tie at the end of regulation time with a basket as the buzzer sounded.

Dick Rodgers scored as the buzzer sounded ending the first OT to give Bowling Green an 82-82 tie. Jim Lynch's layup in the final second of the second extra period finally won for St. Joseph's.

In other home court victories, Alabama trounced Texas 88-62, Dayton downed Cannon 91-71, Chicago Loyola whipped St. John's of Minnesota 90-63, Memphis State thumped UTexas, Arlington, 81-49 and LaSalle inaugurated its Tom Gola coaching regime by swamping Baltimore Univ. 100-57.

Coach Plans to Retire
VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Ron Morris, a native of Tulsa, Okla., an assistant coach with the British Columbia football Lions, announced his retirement from the Canadian Football League club Wednesday.

Pentagon Says Hospitals Discriminate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is working to stop some civilian hospitals from discriminating against the families of Negro servicemen.

So far, the government has ruled that eight Southern hospitals are ineligible to participate in what amounts to a military medicare program because of alleged discriminatory practices.

The program, a joint effort with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, marks a new phase of the Pentagon's drive to force an end to inequalities encountered by black men in uniform.

The affected hospitals, in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina, have been barred from taking part in the Civilian Health and Medicare Program of the Uniformed Services—Champus.

Champus, basically a military counterpart to the medicare program, was set up to enable servicemen's dependents living far from military medical facilities to get subsidized treatment.

Under it, the wife of a serviceman may go to a civilian doctor or hospital for medical care and have most, if not all, the bills paid for by the Pentagon.

A total of 7,000 hospitals are currently eligible to participate in the program.

There is no rule of bridge that requires fourth hand to win a trick and it pays to remember that fact.

South knew all about safety plays. He was delighted with his six-heart contract and started out to play the hand so as to guard against all possible club breaks.

He won the diamond lead with dummy's queen, then drew trumps with three leads. Next he played three rounds of spades, ruffing the third. He led the king of diamonds to dummy's ace and he was ready for a sure thing play in clubs. He led a low club from dummy to his jack. We won't detail all possible club combinations but you can check and see that this play insures success no matter how the clubs divide.

Let's look at the actual situation. Suppose West takes his king. If he leads a spade or diamond South will ruff in one hand and discard a club from the other. If he leads back the seven of clubs South will play the eight from dummy. If West leads the nine or 10 of clubs, South will let it ride to his queen. East will show out and South will have a proved club finesse against West.

West was either a bridge expert or a patron of burlesque. He knew a strip play when he saw one and just forgot to win that first club trick. Instead he dropped his seven.

South played a low club from his hand and West played the nine. South knew

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Because tomatoes belong to the same family, nightshade, as does the deadly belladonna, they were once thought poisonous by Americans. The World Almanac says. Tomatoes, now second to white potatoes in economic value among U.S. vegetable crops, were not eaten by Americans until after 1825. The Italians, however, ate them as early as 1550, the first Europeans to do so.

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor
Alex. H. Washburn
Our Muscovy
Duck Goes Home;
Odd-Ball English

More about that Muscovy duck which I reported found in the Nov. 21st edition of this column, with picture published Nov. 26 - he's going home.

The saga of this Bolshevik Drake began Nov. 20 when Mrs. W.L. Carter, 802 S. Elm St., telephoned me she had a strange-looking bird in her backyard and would I come down and capture it and take it to my miniature game preserve on S. Walnut St. Mayor Donald Parker and I obliged.

I posted a "Found" notice in this column so the rightful owner, if any, might claim the escapee. None appeared, however, so I had the bird identified and printed his picture Nov. 26. At that time it appeared that our visitor was a wild one, Mr. and Mrs. Fay James coming up with an eye-witness story about seeing him fly down from the wild blue yonder and light on a S. Walnut St. building the same morning he finally wound up in Mrs. Carter's S. Elm St. yard.

A still later development, however, came from our staffer Gene Allen, who reported he had learned that some years ago a man named Noah Steva, now of Little Rock, used to keep a pet flock of Muscovies on a farm 10 miles south of Hope on State Highway 29. But Mr. Steva turned his flock loose when he went to Little Rock - and so the conviction grew that our bird was a wild one descended from his once-domesticated flock.

But not so. The truth lay right here in Hope. After our picture came out Nov. 26 George (Boots) Smith, Jr., reported that his contractor friend, C.G. Carmichael, 605 E. Sixth St., kept a penful of Muscovies - and recognized the picture as being of one of his drakes. Our Gene Allen viewed the "Sixth St. Muscovies" and reported to me: "No question about it - you've got Carmichael's duck."

Carmichael's story is to the point: He never bothered to count his ducks, but after publication of our picture he recalled that he had two drakes which were always fighting - remembered that recently there were no more fights, and a count-down turned up the fact that the reason there were no more fights was that Carmichael was down to one drake.

So he gets his duck back - depending on our ability to get help to catch the critter on the "back 40." Of course Carmichael and I know why he keeps a penful of birds. The helpful aspect of a penful is that, this way, you don't have to look at just one Muscovy... a rugged, quarrelsome, and unbeautiful piece of poultry.

Last Sunday's papers carried an AP dispatch from London reporting on Britfishers' odd-ball pets. The item that took my fancy was this:

London's Communist Daily Worker newspaper changed its name to the Morning Star, and drew the following complaint from a reader:

"A year ago I bought a mynah bird and after months of hard work I am proud to say I got it to shout, 'Read the Daily Worker.' Ye merry gods, now you're changing the paper's name."

I, too, have a mynah bird, but the trouble I have with him can't be laid on a newspaper. All Baba all by himself learned to call my second Boxer dog by name, "Rick." But Rick grew old, and died. My third Boxer is named "Roger" - but the jet-black outlaw still calls him "Rick" - and I'm not about to start the tedious business of correcting his diction.

Says Police Tried to Spur Violence

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - A leader of the antiwar demonstrators who fought with authorities in the streets of Chicago during the Democratic National Convention says police undercover agents tried to spur the protestors to violence.

David Dellinger, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, told a House panel investigating the Chicago disorders Wednesday that the police agents tried to blur the purpose of the demonstrators by urging them to use force.

Dellinger, who was called for a second day of testimony today before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, also said he had appealed to the protestors not to fight even "when police brutally attacked us."

"My position has always been to avoid violence and to avoid provocation," Dellinger said.

There was a brief flurry before the hearing actually started Wednesday when Yippee leader Jerry Rubin appeared outside the room dressed in a Santa Claus suit and carrying a toy gun. He was ordered kept out by Chairman Richard Ichord, D-Mo.

Rubin, who showed up at hearings last October wearing a bandoleer and war paint, told reporters his latest costume was typical of the committee, which he described as "a total circus."

Rubin said he would refuse to appear as ordered at a closed session Friday and would insist on a public hearing.

Dellinger, said at Wednesday's hearing, he advocated "revolutionary change, and I use this in the form of drastic or basic rather than I should go out and kill you or you me."

As a pacifist, Dellinger said he could understand American, Vietnamese, Cuban and black patriots who feel it necessary to resort to violence "to throw off oppressive force."

Dellinger condemned the "imperialist United States for fighting a war of example in Vietnam." He also said he condemned the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia while in Chicago but said this wasn't widely publicized.

Arnett served in the Senate in 1939 from the Fifth District, which included Logan, Scott and Polk counties.

Artist Says You Can't Live in Our Time With Small Windows

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) - "We cannot live in our time with small windows," said Renee Theobald. "We must open them more - feel the possibilities and challenges of life more, and express them more."

At 42 the beautiful and exciting Parisian artist, well known both in this country and in Europe, has been doubly successful in opening the "windows on walls" of her own life.

Her paintings, notable for vivid coloring and optimism, have drawn warm praise from some noted critics for their "virile touch" and the "zest and joy" they demonstrate. She has had 25 one-man shows. Twenty of her paintings were snapped up by collectors during a recent two-week exhibition at the Emile Walter Galleries here.

As wife and mother, Mme. Theobald has been equally successful. She is married to Du Bois de Montreynaud, a French statistician and insurance company official, and they have five daughters, ranging in age from 10 to 18 years.

She has found no conflict in pursuing two careers. Mornings and evenings are given to her family, afternoons are spent at

Auto Dealers Claim Compensation From Makers Is Inadequate

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - A spokesman said that auto dealers today they are inadequately compensated by the big car makers for warranty repair work and have to try and make up the difference on other parts of their business.

Warren J. McEneaney, speaking for the National Automobile Association, said in a prepared statement that the extended warranty introduced in 1962 has forced car sellers to do repair work at a loss.

McEneaney, a Clinton, Iowa car dealer, said that the car manufacturers don't repay their franchisees enough on the warranty repairs and sales profits aren't large enough to make up the difference.

He told a Senate antitrust subcommittee that if a businessman feels he must take a loss, he will make every effort to minimize the deficit and to compensate for it by gaining additional revenue from other sources.

"How a dealer will attempt to recoup his warranty losses after absorbing as much as he can afford is difficult to determine," McEneaney said. "Such an effort could be reflected in his new or used car sales or in his retail service department."

The subcommittee has been investigating the cost of auto repairs.

In other prepared testimony William W. Wimpfinger, general vice president of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, said the warranty system hurts mechanics.

Michael Abbott of Dixie said in Circuit Court here that Crockett walked out of a house at Dixie May 18 as Huckabee drove up and "Wylie asked Gene what he wanted."

Abbott said, "and Gene said he wanted him (Crockett)." Huckabee threatened to shoot Crockett while the two men were about three feet apart and "Wylie said go ahead and shoot," Abbott said. He said "Huckabee pointed the gun at his chest and fired once."

The first witness for the prosecution was Mrs. Evelyn Heicks, 56, of Lake City - mother of the defendant's ex-wife. She said that on more than one occasion she had heard Huckabee say he would kill Crockett.

Jury selection began Tuesday but did not end until Wednesday morning. All but two of 86 prospective jurors were questioned. Prosecutor Gerald L. Pearson qualified the jurors for the death penalty.

Ky's Peace Team to Paris Sunday

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) - South Vietnamese officials said today their entire peace conference delegation including Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky will arrive in Paris Sunday.

Officials of South Vietnam's diplomatic mission prepared a big-scale reception for Ky and his team at Orly Airport. The French government prepared massive security precautions.

Ky's decision to accompany Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, who will head the delegation at the conference table, was a sudden change of plans. He had intended following Lam by about one week.

The arrival of South Vietnam's team will clear the way for the start of the expanded peace parley. But it is expected to bog down in procedural disputes as soon as it starts.

No Pinpoint of ICC Stock Case Leak

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - Government experts say the market in bonds is so vast and varied that it may be impossible to pinpoint whether the sudden rise in value of a railroad's bonds following a secret ruling was coincidence.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is investigating whether an inside leak caused the dramatic upturn in the price of New Haven Railroad bonds in the week before the ruling was made public.

But an official in another agency which serves as the watchdog on the stock market said bond trading is so big and so broadly scattered that the government doesn't even know how many bonds are bought and sold each day.

Drug Firms Charged With Price Fixing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Five national drug companies will be charged with conspiring to fix prices of drugs sold to the state and its political subdivisions, Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell said Wednesday.

The suit will be filed within a few days against Charles Pfizer & Co., the American Cyanamid Co., Bristol-Myers Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., and the Upjohn Co. Purcell said.

Arkansas could recover more than $500,000, the attorney general said.

"I want to emphasize that the suit does not involve any Arkansas druggists, the Arkansas Pharmaceutical Association or its members, or any Arkansas drug firms," Purcell said.

The suit will be filed in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, where the suits of 22 other states against the five firms have been consolidated for trial.

Harriman Declares He Will Not Continue Role in Peace Talks

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - W. Averell Harriman said today, after conferring with President-elect Richard M. Nixon, that he is confident Nixon will send a personal observer to the Paris talks and will replace the two principal American negotiators soon after taking office.

Nixon, who had tentatively decided against sending an observer to the peace talks before inauguration day, was said to be shifting his attitude at the urging of Harriman, who said that he and deputy negotiator Cyrus R. Vance felt such a move would be "a very excellent way to insure continuity."

Talking to newsmen after meeting with Nixon for more than an hour, Harriman made it clear he and Vance will turn over their tasks to Nixon's team on or about Jan. 20.

Although there had been much speculation that the president-elect would retain either Harriman or Vance in the interest of continuity, Harriman said he planned to return to Washington come Jan. 20 and reported that Vance might remain in Paris - but "only for a few days."

The veteran diplomat said he thought Nixon would send an observer to Paris later this month but said, "I do not know who he will be or when he will come."

Harriman said he got no impression in his talk with Nixon that the incoming administration would basically change the negotiating approach of the United States. And he said he didn't think the Communist side would pay a great deal of attention to the shift of power in Washington - that they see little difference between Democrats and Republicans - but regard both groups as "imperialist capitalists."

Also announced was Nixon's appointment of Roy L. Ash, president of Litton Industries, Inc., to work with him and members of the incoming administration during the transition period "on matters of management and efficiency."

No announcement of Cabinet-level appointments is expected before the weekend, but in Sacramento, Calif., Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch said he had been offered the posts of secretary of health, education and welfare and as head of another department. He said he had reached a decision but that it would be announced by Nixon.

The President-elect flies to Los Angeles to attend a dinner tonight honoring James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Roman Catholic archbishop of that city. He will address a conference of Republican governors Friday at Palm Springs, Calif., before returning to New York.

War Death Toll Highest in Months

SAIGON (AP) - The weekly toll of American battle deaths climbed last week to its highest mark in two months, the U.S. Command announced today.

U.S. spokesmen said 228 Americans were killed in action, the highest death count since 247 Americans died in combat in the week of Sept. 22-28.

While no major sustained fighting was reported last week, there were a number of sharp, scattered actions across the country, including clashes along the Cambodian border north and west of Saigon.

The 228 American dead last week represented a sharp increase over the 160 killed in action the previous week. Another 1,094 Americans were wounded last week, and 469 of them were hospitalized the previous week 1,432 were reported wounded in action.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported government casualties dropped slightly last week, with 223 men killed and 789 wounded in action. The tolls for the previous week were 246 killed and 902 wounded.

U.S. headquarters said 2,689 of the enemy were killed last week but noted - as it does every week - that the figure was "subject to adjustment."

The latest casualty count raised to 29,865 the number of Americans reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961. A total of 188,159 Americans wounded and 421,226 enemy dead have been reported in that period, the U.S. Command said.

Christian Civic Group Holds Meet

The executive committee of the Christian Civic Foundation held its third meeting since election day. Reports were heard from the chairman of three subcommittees which include a Public Relations Committee with Gerald W. Trussell, Chairman; An Education Committee with Tommy Simmons, Chairman; and a Membership Committee with Burgess Garrett as Chairman.

The report from the Membership committee is as follows: One in each community will be elected to secure membership. Membership cards will be printed, listing objectives on back of card. The committee suggests that a youth chapter be organized with membership cards for all youth.

Recommendation made that a semi-annual meeting be held of the entire membership to hear reports and discuss progress made and objectives to be reached.

Also, that semi-annual newsletters to each member of the Foundation be mailed between regular meetings.

The membership drive will begin after January 1, 1969. There will be a membership fee of $1.00 to help defray the expenses of the alcohol education program. Membership will be open to every adult in Hempstead County interested in becoming involved in some important activities in our county.

The Public Relations Committee is meeting with various law enforcement officers to get their suggestions as to how this Foundation can help. It was also reported that all bills have been paid for the recent election and a small balance was left over.

Arkansan Convicted on Draft Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - A federal court jury Wednesday convicted a field worker for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee at Pine Bluff, Ark., of violating the Selective Service Act.

Vincent J. O'Connor, a conscientious objector and the son of Raymond J. O'Connor, a San Francisco juvenile court judge, was charged last year with refusing to report as a hospital helper in Los Angeles as an alternative to military service.

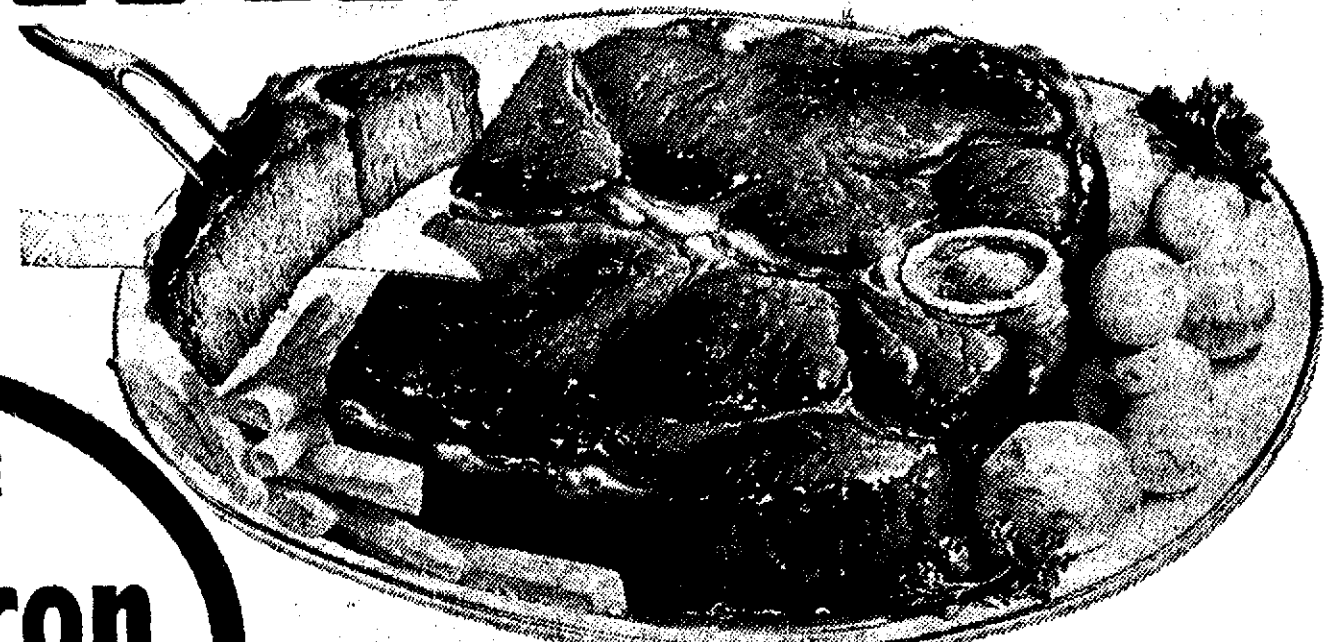

He was classified as a conscientious objector three years ago.

Nixon to Reckon With Black America Which Voted Against Him

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In his drive to unite the nation, Richard M. Nixon must reckon with a frustrated, skeptical black America that voted overwhelmingly against him.

Negroes—85 per cent of whom voted Democratic—are waiting for Nixon's program to take form around his general campaign statements that federal influence should recede in favor of industry and local government.

"I do not see any significant area where additional legislation could be passed that would be helpful in opening doors that are legally closed," Nixon has said.

"We must now concentrate on such areas as economic development, education, building and strengthening the black community from within and fashioning a new understanding between the races."

But civil rights leaders like Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has doubts about Nixon's philosophy.

"The real basic fight of the Negro population of the United States for the past 60 or 70 years has been against local determination of his citizenship rights," says Wilkins.

"We have been unwilling to allow Brinkley, Ark.; or Raleigh N.C.; or Biloxi, Miss.; or Saginaw, Mich., to determine what we're entitled to."

But Wilkins and others are hesitant about judging Nixon's civil rights proposals at this stage. "He hasn't really said enough yet," Wilkins says.

Among Nixon's proposals so far, are eliminating the Job Corps program as quickly as possible, and inducing private enterprise through tax credits to "train the unemployed for jobs that really exist."

Welfare and public housing has "perpetuated poverty" in the cities, Nixon said, and his chief programs in this field include national minimum welfare standards, welfare rules that encourage families to stay together and encourage people to work, and government help for home ownership programs.

He said he would also like to see tax incentives for businesses that set up in poverty areas, loans, loan guarantee programs and increase that would promote "black capitalism," and a new enterprise program that would offer tax deductions for businessmen and teachers who help train urban Negroes to own or manage businesses.

Whitney M. Young Jr., president of the National Urban League and a man who has spent the past five years prodigal businessmen into Nixon-like programs, is skeptical.

"He's oversimplified it when he talks about the free enterprise system handling the problem," said Young. "Free enterprise can handle it, yes, but it's not going to unless it is given certain subsidies and insurance against loss."

The government would have to take the same role it took in building the airlines system, and in highway construction. Free enterprise isn't going to do anything unless it has guarantees against loss. . . . They have stockholders, they aren't in the business of social reform. What we need is a plan with a timetable."

And the question unanswered in Nixon's campaign, say civil rights activists, is: What does he do if, left to themselves, the states and private industry do not advance in the civil rights arena?

U.S. Rep. John Conyers, a Michigan democrat who is a symbol of the increasing political power Negroes have been able to muster, says the problems confronting Nixon are the more that.

"The issues don't change from year to year," says Conyers. "We're still working on the old domestic problems in this country that have never been resolved. . . ."

A rundown makes for sober reading:

The two most important achievements so far have been

NCA Group Visits Hope High School

W.M. Locke, supervisor of instruction, state department of education, Little Rock, has directed a North Central Accreditation re-evaluation of Hope High School which was culminated by a committee visit in the school Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

According to Mr. Locke the recommendations and evaluations of the 14-member committee, which is subdivided into nine groups, will be edited and combined by him and then sent to Supt. James H. Jones in about a month.

During the three days of the visit they talked with staff members, students, and the faculty. Most of Tuesday was spent in observation, in classes, in the halls, and in the cafeteria.

After school was dismissed Tuesday, the Future Homemakers, under the direction of their teacher Mrs. Flora Harmon, entertained the faculty and committee with a Coke party in the Home Ec cottage.

The committee met with school officials for dinner to write their reports, which were completed Tuesday.

The committee met with school officials for dinner at the Town and Country Restaurant after which they continued to write their reports, which were completed by noon Wednesday.

The committee was composed of five superintendents, an associate superintendent, seven directors and supervisors, a principal and a college professor.

The superintendents were C. D. Franks, Ashdown; Dwight Jones, Nashville; J.E. Smith, Prescott; Robert W. Stephens, Arkadelphia; F.B. Wright, North Little Rock; and W.H. Watson, assistant superintendent, Texarkana, Arkansas.

From the state department of education in Little Rock were Austin Hanner, supervisor of instruction; Miss Wilma Jimeron, supervisor of foreign languages; and W.M. Locke, supervisor of instruction.

College committeemen included Dr. Dewey Chapel, director of Graduate Studies at Ouachita Baptist University; Dr. Paul R. Kirkpatrick, director of guidance and Counseling, Southern State College; Miss Elise Reid, professor of education, Henderson State College.

F.F. Seymour is principal of senior high school at Camden. Mrs. J.D. Martin is supervisor of English in Pulaski County Schools; and Charles A. Burks is director of secondary education, Little Rock Public Schools.

The purpose of the visit was to re-evaluate the entire program of Hope High School in relation to maintaining its standing in the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Pipers Roar to a Quick Command

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rampaging Minnesota took only a dozen minutes to put its game with Dallas out of doubt Wednesday night, then got an assist from lowly Houston in widening its lead in the American Basketball Association.

The Pipers roared to a 40-22 command in the first 12 minutes, then went on to thump Dallas 126-103. Coupled with Houston's 103-91 conquest of Miami, that gave Minnesota a 5-2 game bulge over Miami and Kentucky in the Eastern Division.

Kentucky slipped past Indiana 112-110 and Los Angeles defeated New York 121-109 in the night's other games.

In the National Basketball Association, Philadelphia beat San Diego 110-99. New York stopped Atlanta 121-113. Baltimore whipped Detroit 112-106. Phoenix defeated San Francisco 126-97 and Boston slipped past Milwaukee 101-99.

Minnesota, which has won 14 of 18 games, was paced by Charlie Williams' 35 points. Teammate Connie Hawkins contributed 31.

Dallas Player-coach Cliff Hagan came in during the second quarter and wound up as his team's top man with 24.

Houston, the Western Division's tallender, combined some tenacious defensive play with a blazed shooting to strike down Miami.

Keith Swagerty led the way with 22, and Art Becker had 21. Teammate Stew Johnson scored 13 of his 15 points in the final quarter to choke off a rally by the Floridians, led by Skip Thoron's 21.

Birmingham Has a Negro Councilman

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro attorney Arthur Shores, calling his selection as Birmingham's first Negro city councilman a "wholesome thing," says it will increase the black community's confidence in city government.

Shores, 56, was elected to the nine-member council by the other eight members Wednesday to fill the unexpired term of a councilman who died.

"I am happy the council saw fit to appoint me," he said. "It is with a feeling of humility that I accept the appointment and I look forward to serving my city and all of its people."

Shores will be the first Negro ever to serve in an elected position in the city. However, Negroes currently serve in appointive positions on at least three city boards.

"The city is making great strides in changing its image," Shores said. "I think this appointment will increase the confidence of the black community in the city's efforts to meet the needs of all its citizens."

Shores' $75,000 home was extensively damaged by two dynamite blasts in 1963. No one was seriously injured but his wife was shaken up in one of the bombings.

"There has been a phenom-nal change since then," he said. "It's almost unbelievable the progress that Birmingham has made, even though there is still a way to go yet."

Council members normally are elected at large by Birmingham voters. The city's population is approximately 40 per cent Negro but no Negro has been elected to the council by the voters. A council post is a part-time job with pay on the basis of meetings attended.

Shores said it's too early to decide whether he will seek reelection when his term expires next October.

A native of Birmingham, Shores was selected from a list of at least 39 applicants and dozens of persons recommended. He has practiced law 31 years.

Shores was instrumental in the legal battle that won admission of Negroes to the University of Alabama. He is a member of the legal staff of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and an active Democrat.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

BRIBERY GETS YOU NOWHERE BUT BROKE

Dear Helen: I'm a boy in the eighth grade. My troubles started last year. Two kids who are twice my size were always after me for money. One of them forced me to give him a dime a day for the last two months of school. It was that or get beat up. When I said I'd tell, he said, "Try it and you might turn up dead." So I paid. They still pushed me around a lot.

This year they acted friendly at first. They patted me on the back and everything.

Now they want money, money, money all the time. One demands a dollar a week, and the other "borrows" about 15 cents a day, but he never pays it back. I have to go without my lunch so I'll have the money. When I go broke, they follow me home and talk so I can over-hear. About "accidents" in the vacant lot, and what happens to finks.

I get stomach aches a lot but my mother won't let me stay home because she thinks I'm faking. What am I going to do? —DESPERATELY BROKE

Dear Desperate: Now hear this! You are going to get these two bullies in a crowd of kids and you are going to say loud and clear, "I'm through paying you health insurance!"

Be sure you have plenty of witnesses and they dig just what you mean, especially as concerns the "accident" in the vacant lot. Blackmailers don't carry out their threats when they know they'll be blamed for the crime.

Next: Go home and tell your parents all about this persecution. What are parents for, if not to advise and protect? —H.

Dear Helen: My father says that if you belong to a minority race or religion and marry out of either one, you always "marry down." Is this right? —WONDERING JEW

Dear Won: No! But we'll never convince your father, will we? —H.

Dear Helen: Our school custodian waxes the floors so slippery that they're dangerous. Last year I spent all of Christmas vacation on crutches because I slipped in the halls and broke my leg.

This year the floors are even worse. I saw four different kids fall at noon one day. Our floors are real pretty, but can't something be done about the wax they use? —EX HOPALONG

Dear Ex: Someone should suggest non-skid wax to the school board before the district is hit with a damage suit.

Latest thing for school floors is durable carpeting. I'm told it lasts longer than tile, requires less upkeep. And it's considerably less dangerous! —H.

Dear Helen: Regarding "Pol-It," the Polish-Italian girl who resents "those jokes." She doesn't have much of a sense of humor, or maybe she has a

A-State End Up 15th in Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten North Dakota State today was named The Associated Press' small college football champions of 1968.

However, the rugged Bison, who methodically swept aside nine straight foes this year, just barely deprived San Diego State from winning its third straight crown.

The Pecan Bowl-bound Bison drew six of the 12 first-place votes and 220 points in the final balloting by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

San Diego State, small college champs in 1966 and 1967 after the Bison won it in 1965, had only three top votes, but picked up enough second ballot strength to roll up 204 points.

The only blemish on the Aztec's 10-game schedule was a 13-13 tie with Tennessee State Nov. 23, and paved the way for North Dakota State to claim the championship.

Up to that point, San Diego State had been No. 1 and North Dakota State second in the previous polls.

Although most of the teams were idle last weekend, there was some minor shuffling among the other members of the top 20.

Chattanooga, 10-1, took over sole possession of third place with 162 points, while New Mexico State, 9-0, was fourth with 147. The two—both idle over the weekend—had been tied for third the previous week.

The next five positions remained unchanged with Indiana, Pa., 9-0, fifth; Texas A&I, 10-1, sixth; Eastern Michigan, 8-2, seventh; South Dakota, 9-1, eighth; and Eastern Kentucky, 8-2, ninth.

University Professor Lemke Dies

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Walter J. Lemke, founder of the journalism department at the University of Arkansas, died at his Fayetteville home Wednesday. He was 77.

Lemke headed the university's journalism department from 1928 to 1953, when he stepped down and limited his services to teaching journalism.

He also founded the Arkansas High School Press Association.

Lemke was best known perhaps for his "Uncle Walt" newsletter, which he began writing during World War II to keep former University of Arkansas students abreast of campus developments.

The newsletter reached worldwide circulation during the war when former university students in the service began to ask that the letter be sent to them overseas.

YOU KNOW IF IT'S BORDEN'S IT'S GOT TO BE GOOD!

Borden's... fussiest people in the world about milk!

In the dairy industry, a big part of being better is being fussier. Borden's people have been the fussiest people in the world about milk for more than 110 years. That's why Borden's is the leader in dairy science. And that's why Borden's Milk always tastes fresh and sweet.

Elves' House Is Good to Eat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

For a Christmas party for youngsters, or as a centerpiece for the holiday dinner, a Christmas elves' house is a delightful suggestion. It's good to eat and makes a wonderful decoration.

THE ELVES' HOUSE

1 package yellow or white cake mix
1/2 cup light corn syrup
6 tablespoons water
1/4 cup shortening
1 12-ounce jumbo package or two 6-ounce packages (2 cups) semisweet chocolate morsels
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
Candles for decoration

Bake cake, using 13x9x2-inch pan. Cool completely. To make frosting, combine corn syrup, water and shortening in saucepan and bring just to a boil over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add semisweet chocolate morsels and vanilla; stir until melted and smooth. Blend in confectioners' sugar.

A Chocolate house for Christmas elves

Cut cake crosswise into three equal rectangles. Stack, spreading frosting between layers. To make peaked roof, cut slanted pieces from top layer, cutting downward and outward from top center. Lightly frost cut surfaces. Frost entire cake.

Use four 2-inch candy sticks to make chimney; push about 3/4-inch into cake. Use flat round candies, mint wafers or pillow mints to make roof. Outline doors and windows with tiny round candies.
